"Dancing Rivers of Life"

This training is designed to enhance the capacity of the African American faith-based community to be a support system and to be more embracing of those individuals challenged with mental illness and the disease of addiction. The training is also designed to educate other care professionals in the spiritual and cultural dynamics of mental illness and substance abuse disorders. The workshop will define Tova's N.E.S.T. and the vision and goals as well as, Tova's Journey.

TRACEE L. BLACK

Tracee is the proud mother of four beautiful children: Trevor, Tova, Terryn and Beecher IV. She has been a member of The Mount Baptist Church for 32 years. She has a genuine and sincere commitment to advocate for those with mental illness. This commitment stems from unconditional love for her daughter Tova who was diagnosed with Bipolar Disorder 8 years ago. The journey of trials, tribulations, and awesome recovery of Tova inspired Tracee to lead an initiative with funding from the Ohio department of Mental Health in partnership with NAMI Ohio.

Learning Objectives

- ◆ Identify the role the faith-based community must play in combating mental illness and stigma;
- ◆ Educate care professionals in the spiritual and cultural dynamics of mental illness and substance abuse disorders;
- ◆ Understand the process of recovery and resiliency;
- ◆ Identify local resources available to provide support and intervention.
